Evolution Markets Named Best U.S. Power Broker in 2019 Energy Risk Annual Survey
-- U.S. Natural Gas and Carbon Brokers also Receive Honors --

White Plains, NY (April 22, 2019): Evolution Markets received “Best Broker” honors in U.S. power trading markets in the 2019 Energy Risk Annual Commodity Rankings. In addition, the Evolution Markets U.S. natural gas and carbon desks placed in their respective categories. The Energy Risk rankings are a leading benchmark for traders, brokers, and other service providers in global energy and environmental trading markets. The rankings are determined by votes from active market participants.

“This marks the first Energy Risk Commodity Rankings win for our U.S. power desk, which has been steadily building capabilities since its launch four years ago,” said Andrew Ertel, President and CEO of Evolution Markets Inc. “Our U.S. Natural Gas desk is an even newer venture, and we are very pleased with the recognition they have gained for their excellent market execution services. As we continue to expand our brokerage services at Evolution Markets, recognition from our clients and peers in surveys such as the Energy Risk rankings provide a valuable metric of our progress.”

Evolution Markets’ honors in the Commodity Rankings include being named “Best Broker” in the following categories:

Best Broker – North American Power Markets
Best Broker (Runner Up) – Henry Hub Natural Gas
Best Broker (Second Runner Up) – Eastern U.S. & Canada Natural Gas
Best Broker (Runner Up) – U.S. Emissions Markets

“We also continue to receive recognition in U.S. carbon markets, where our team has consistently ranked among top brokers,” added Mr. Ertel. “We appreciate the recognition from our clients in all categories and look forward to continuing to serve the marketplace.”
